DEALAMAN-STRANSKY NATURE TRAILS

The two tracts are now merged with joining trail loops

DEALAMAN POND

OPEN SPACE SITE 6B

Road Access: Parking lot near 185 Mt. Horeb Rd.

A 25 acre woodlot, wetland and pond/picnic area. It is named for George Dealaman, a long time Warren Public Servant and benefactor. It has been enhanced with a parking lot, wood-chipped trail loops, benches, and a restored dam holding a large shallow pond use for the township fishing derby each May.

A half-mile trail loop winds through a young hardwood grove to older groves along Cory’s brook, marsh and pond; a small open field surrounds the dam location.

STRANSKY FARM

OPEN SPACE SITE 6C

Road Access: 173 Mt. Horeb, 14 Canterbury, trails from Dealaman Pond & Powderhorn. Park at the Dealaman parking lot.

A 21 Acre farm and woodlot purchased in 1998 from the Stransky family. Behind this, the mowed trails loop around the large meadows in both open and shaded areas, connecting with blazed wooded trails along Cory’s Brook.

A wide variety of wildflowers, shrub and trees, aged and young line the level, generally smooth trails. A few large old farm equipment items add historical interest. A variety of species and settings, plus convenience and ease of walking, combines to make a popular outdoor retreat.

The Recreation Department is open Monday-Friday from 8:30am-4pm. Wear mud boots, long sleeves, pants, and a hat. Sun screen and bug spray recommended. Most importantly bring your camera and water! Leaving for the trail at 9am sharp.
