

OCTOBER 9, 2018

PREPARING STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES FOR SUCCESSFUL COLLEGE TRANSITION

Speaker and author Elizabeth C. Hamblet

Shares what students with disabilities need to know to be successful in college, followed by Q&A.

Sponsored by Chatham Association for Special Education

Advisory Council

Elizabeth C. Hamblet has worked both ends of the college transition. She began her career as a high school special education teacher and then worked as a learning disabilities specialist at Simmons College and Rutgers University.

She is currently a learning specialist at Columbia University, where she helps students with time management, organization, and study skills.

Elizabeth's academic credentials include a Master of Education in special education, a Master of Arts in teaching, state certification as a learning consultant and training in Orton-Gillingham.

Chatham Middle School
Auditorium
480 Main Street
Chatham, NJ 07928

10/9/18

7:00 PM-8:30 PM