ONLINE PARENT AWARENESS WORKSHOP

Creating Visual Schedules and Behavioral Expectations

Creating a visual schedule and setting behavioral expectations in the home for students with disabilities is a challenge for any parent. What do I do when my child arrives home from school to set up a schedule and expectations? What digital tools are available to help students to establish routine at home and create structure? How do I get my child to transition off a preferred device such as an Ipad? During this online workshop, participants will learn about the digital tools available to help them establish organization and routine/structure at home. Tools via Google and other digital resources will be shared. This online workshop will focus on:

- assisting parents with creating a visual schedule for the home,
- exploring independent digital applications to assist parents with setting behavioral expectations,
- practicing with tools that help parents create a home based structure.
